

2. What is your ethnicity?

Ethnicity is not a fixed biological or sociological category so it can be difficult to describe. Often ethnic identity is self-defined. Generally, ethnicity describes a shared heritage, culture, history, language and religion, however, every ethnic group is not defined by all of these categories. Members of the same ethnic group may be citizens of different countries. Citizens of the same country may be members of different ethnic groups. What term or terms do you think best describes your ethnicity? What term or terms do you think best describes the ethnicity of people of European ancestry in the United States?