

1. Who are you?

You have recently entered an international internet chat room where participants are discussing their experiences as teachers in their own countries. During the course of discussion, one of the other participants asks you to describe who you are. Write a one hundred word description.